1. New Landline Numbers

Vodafone will choose the new Landline Number for you to use with your mobile phone on our network. This Landline Number will be based on your billing address when signing up for the Service and will be allocated based on your minimum numbering area (MNA) as defined by the Commission for Communications Regulation. By way of example, this means that if your address is within the MNA associated with 071 (Sligo) you can only be assigned a number beginning with 071.

2. Existing Landline Numbers:

Where porting is requested by you, you warrant and represent that you accept the terms relating to porting contained in the General Terms and the Mobile Specific Terms.

2.1. A landline terminal is not required or provided as part of this Service

2.2. In order to avail of the Service the Customer must not change the Landline Number call forwarding functionality to an alternative mobile number on another mobile network or on a non-relevant Business Unlimited plan as outlined in clause (2) above.

2.3. Your Landline Number is linked at all times to the mobile number it was set up on as part of the Service. Vodafone cannot transfer the Landline Number to divert calls to another mobile number. Where a Customer wishes to transfer ownership of a Landline Number created by the Service that is linked to a Vodafone mobile number, the Customer must complete a Transfer of Ownership form to transfer ownership of that mobile number and the associated Landline Number.

2.4. Customers may terminate this Service at any time by notifying Vodafone.

2.5. If a Customer terminates their Business Unlimited plan, moves to a Vodafone mobile tariff plan outside of those listed in clause (2) above or moves their mobile service to another network provider the Service will be terminated and no longer function.

2.6. The Landline Number or mobile number do not belong to the Customer and will remain property of Vodafone until the mobile number is transferred to another network provider. Where a Customer ports their mobile number to another mobile operator, the associated Landline Number will be disconnected unless the Customer notifies Vodafone in advance that they wish to retain the Landline Number allocated to them. In this scenario, Vodafone will, where possible, facilitate the transfer of the telephone number to the new network operator in accordance with agreed industry processes.

2.7. If you change your address at any time you will need to inform Vodafone so we can supply you with a new Landline Number based on your new billing address as defined by ComReg. Please note that any changes to your address may impact the Service.

2.8. Vodafone does not represent or warrant that the operation of the Service or related Vodafone products and services will be uninterrupted, timely, secure or error-free or that it will meet any Customers specific requirements.
